

Extension:

III. You will be given a layer of the respiratory system to research. Following instructions given by your teacher, organize your findings on the It's All Inside page.

It's All Inside

After dissecting a paper model of the lungs, you realize there is more to the respiratory system than you might have thought! The following is a graphic organizer for researching your assigned layer of the lungs. This research will be used to create a presentation so note your sources. Use extra paper or note cards where you need them.

Title of Lung Layer

Details of Major Parts

Structure

Function

What health issues are associated with this layer?

How is this layer designed to do its job?

How does this layer work with the complete respiratory system?

Other important information: